

NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING PRIDE OF HOPKINSVILLE AND THING OF BEAUTY

Magnificent Structure Opened This Week, a Model of Convenience and Completeness in All Its Departments and Appointments--A Total of 220 Pupils in Attendance, Nearly One-Third of Them From Out in the County--Sketch of the Movement For The New School and Obstacles Thrown in the Way.

Monday the Hopkinsville Public Schools opened under auspices which point to one of the best years in the history of the school. It was a great day for the school system of our city because it marked the opening of the magnificent new High School building on Walnut street. For years it has been the dream of all interested in the educational welfare of Hopkinsville that the city might have a building which would house the High School in the proper way and separate it from the grades, and in every way make it a credit to our city, and a High School second to none in the State. Now in the handsome new structure on Walnut street their dreams are realized.

The movement for the building of the High School was really started by the County Board of Education and to them much credit is due.

Under the new school laws passed several years ago, each county must the plans of several architects, those made by Brinton Davis, of Louisville, were accepted, and soon dirt was being dug for the foundation. But after the foundation was finished, a hitch occurred. The County Board found out that they were unable to make the proper money arrangements, and so had to withdraw from the contract. At this time things looked rather blue for the building of the High School. But it is hard to find a mountain which determined men can't climb, and so the City Board determined to complete the building. It was here that Mayor Meacham and the City Council came to the aid of the new building, and by their help made possible the completion of the building. After several meetings between the members of the City Council and the City Board final arrangements were made by which it was possible to complete the building with not a

The building is three stories in height counting the basement. It is built of mission brick with stone trimmings. The basement is built of stone entirely. The floors above are of the brick, while the top of the building is surmounted by a heavy stone balustrade. Here we cannot help mentioning the front entrance. One approaches the building by means of a wide concrete walk, twenty feet in width, from which branch narrower walks to the side entrances. The steps are wide and above them tower six stone columns which rise to the topmost part of the building and which add a solemnity and dignity to the building which can only be appreciated by seeing it. Entering the front door, one sees a beautiful lobby with marble steps and floor, with paneled walls and beamed ceiling. On one side is a bronze tablet bearing the names of Barkedale Hamlett, the either establish a High School to accommodate its pupils or it must make provisions whereby they may be cared for. After the passage of this law, the County Board of Education, the City Board of Education and the City Council joined with them and erect a joint County and City High School. This was thought to be a great plan, as by so doing they would cement the city and county in a stronger bond, and they thought that the mingling of the city bred boys with the country bred boys would add much to the betterment of both. A committee from the County Board consisting of Messrs. Arthur Henry, Harry Rives and Tobe Morris met with the City Board committee consisting of Messrs. Barkedale Hamlett, W. A. Long and L. E. Fowler and a contract was drawn up, ground bought, an architect engaged and other matters looked into. After looking over single brick missing. Much credit should be given to the members of these two bodies for their untiring zeal and their efforts in behalf of this building. They surmounted obstacles which would have stopped many less enthusiastic and courageous men. So today we have the magnificent new structure as a living testimonial of all that is best in our city.

But let us go to the building itself. Located on a lot ideal in every respect, with grounds sufficient for every need, it is a building of which the city and community should be very proud. To anyone who remembers the lot as it stood a few years ago, it would appear that some magic master builder had in some unaccountable way transformed it into a place of elegance and beauty. It is difficult to describe the building in full, as one must see it to fully appreciate its magnificence.

Board of Education, and Brinton Davis, the architect. On the other side is a like tablet on which are inscribed the name of our honorable mayor, Charles M. Meacham, the City Council and Forbes Manufacturing Co., the builders of the handsome structure. Going up the steps to the right is the office of the City Superintendent and leading from this is the office of the High School Principal. Both of these offices are furnished in the best of style and are large and commodious. The wood work throughout the building, with the exception of the offices, is in natural finish with mahogany trimmings.

On this first floor are located the science department, consisting of a lecture room and separate laboratories for Physics, Biology, and Chemistry. These rooms are equipped fully with the best obtainable apparatus and equipment. There

BIG CROP OF CORN.

Former State's Attorney The Champion Corn Grower.

15 TO 20 BBL. TO THE ACRE.

Modern Scientific Methods, Win If Faithfully Followed.

W. R. Howell, former Commonwealth's Attorney, is believed to have the best crop of corn in Trigg county. Though he made a splendid prosecuting attorney he had heard the call, "Back to the Farm," and on the farm he has been most of the time since the expiration of his term of office. He is what may be termed a progressive farmer and has fallen into the line of cultivation suggested by men who have studied the most scientific modes of making a farm pay. His present crop is expected to average from 15 to 20 barrels to the acre—75 to 100 bushels. At the present price of $4.00 per bbl., his crop will bring $60 to $80 per acre. The question naturally arises what use is there in growing tobacco these troublesome times, which will yield about 800 lbs. to the acre and net about 7 cents per pound and requires a great deal more labor and risk when corn can be so much more easily raised and bring better returns. Why not cut out tobacco and follow the plan of some tobacco growers in the Burly district?

are also four class rooms on this floor, only one of which will be occupied at present. The second floor proper is reached by means of two stairways, one central staircase and another at the south end of the building.

On the second floor there are four class rooms, the large commercial room with typewriter room adjoining, the library, and the study hall or chapel. This room is very large, seating about two hundred and fifty pupils.

The basement contains cloak and hat rooms and rooms for domestic science and manual training. The main toilet rooms, furnace room, and shower baths are located on this floor. At the north end of the building is the gymnasium, which will be used alternately by the girls and boys.

The furnishings of the building are complete in every respect. The study hall is furnished with the regulation desks. Each class room is equipped with tablet arm, pedestal base chairs. The commercial department is equipped with the very latest commercial desks, and also has new typewriters and tables.

Monday morning a very impressive opening was held. Rev. H. D. Smith opened the exercises with devotional services. Next Supt. Clark, with a few well chosen remarks, introduced Mr. W. A. Long, the chairman of the Board of Education, referring to him as the one man who had probably done more toward the building of the High School than any other man. Mr. Long made his talk chiefly to the pupils and visitors. After his talk, Mr. Bowden, principal of the High School, made a short talk to the students and then the routine work of the morning was completed.

The attendance at the High School showed a wonderful increase. There are two hundred and twenty against one hundred and forty-nine last year. The country patronage also was heavy, sixty-one pupils entering on the first day.

Only Half Sessions.

The city schools held only a half day session yesterday on account of the torrid weather. It is most probably that only half sessions will prevail today and tomorrow, or until a cooler day of weathering.

WOODMEN IN PARADE

City Decorated For The Big Industrial March Today.

WILL BE IMPOSING LINE.

Visitors Are Having A Round of Pleasures Mixed With Camp Drills.

Twelve companies of the Uniform Rank Woodmen of the World, being those included in the sixth division of the states of Kentucky and Tennessee, began their annual encampment here Tuesday. The tents are pitched in an ideal location in Mercer park adjoining the baseball grounds which will be used as drill grounds. Strict military regulations prevail in the camp, which has been named Camp Woodcraft.

Tuesday night a banquet was served at the camp. Speeches were made by Mayor Meacham, Councilman Dabney, Gen. Hall, Hon. Rainey T. Wells and others. A retreat was made through the city. Exhibition drills were given and finally there was a dance at the W. O. W. club rooms. The companies in camp are those of Earlington, Owensboro, Mayfield, two from Hopkinsville, Henderson, Alamo, Morton's Gap, Madisonville, Bowling Green, Woodburn and two from St. Charles. The camp will continue through Friday and each day there will be interesting features, including speeches by Governor McCreary, Senator Ollie James, Congressman A. O. Stanley, exhibition and competitive drills, band concerts, etc.

The industrial parade takes place this morning, forming at the baseball park. At 9 o'clock all taking part will begin dropping into the places assigned and the line of march will be taken up at 10:30.

The following is the order of march for the parade to day:

ENORMOUS INCREASES

In The Franchise Assessments Of The State Of Kentucky.

THE L. & N. HARDEST HIT.

Was Given A Raise Of More Than Three Hundred Percent.

Frankfort, Ky.—The State Board of Valuation and Assessment has finished its work of assessing the franchises of the railroad, express companies and traction companies, corporations of the State, and increases amounting to about $100,000,000 have been decided upon. These increases, if sustained by the courts, will net the State alone about $500,000 additional revenue. In addition the assessment will be certified to the various cities, towns and counties, and if the assessments are followed they will mean an increase in the State, counties and cities of nearly $2,000,000 in taxes.

The board, it is learned, did not consider any compromise in the matter, but cut the assessment agreed upon earlier in the year. At that time it was decided to make the whole increase about $137,000,000, but after some discussion it was decided to reduce this to $100,000,000.

Fight In Courts Likely.

It is believed to be certain that the corporations headed by the L. & N. railway will fight the matter in the courts. This will delay action and probably will mean an extra session of the Legislature to raise money to run the State while the matter is in the courts.

Among the principal increases, in round numbers, are the following:

L. & N. railroad, from $11,000,000 in 1911 to $45,000,000.

Chesapeake & Ohio railway, from $2,700,000 in 1911 to $19,000,000.

Illinois Central railway, from $3,500,000 in 1911 to $11,000,000.

Louisville Railway Company and its interurban lines, from about $10,000,000 in 1911 to $15,000,000.

FISCAL COURT

Held All Day Session Last Tuesday.

The Fiscal Court met last Tuesday and held an all day session. All the magistrates were present excepting Esq. M. J. Cooper, who was not well enough to attend. Many important matters were taken up and disposed of.

The cost of holding the August primary election was allowed, amounting to $350.

The general and poorhouse claims, amounting to about $450, were allowed.

Seventy-five dollars was appropriated to build 200 yards of turnpike on the Highland Lick road, between Kirkmansville and Johnson Mill roads.

E. W. Coleman was ordered to make contracts for crushed rock and furnish same to all persons who will haul and scatter it on turnpikes to be repaired.

A. C. Myers and W. B. Martin were appointed a committee to measure and receive the Johnson Mill pike.

An order was made requiring R. F. and C. Vaughan to complete the pike between Hopkinsville and Lafayette by January 1, 1913.

A committee was appointed to audit the report of Miss Jennie West, chairman of the county board of school trustees.

"OLD MEXICO"

Chief Night Attraction at State Fair This Year.

The greatest of Pain's Spectacular Fireworks entitled "Old Mexico" will be the chief night attraction at the Kentucky State Fair this year.
It is unquestionably the most gorgeous and spectacular arrangement and assemblage of fireworks displays that the Great Pain has yet shown, and "Old Mexico" will be seen in the United States for the first time at the Kentucky State Fair. Hundreds of men and women are employed to add to the spectacular effects before the main part of the fireworks begins. The scene is in Old Mexico before the Mexican War. It is a feast day and the populace, attired in gala colors, play games and their national sports, dancing girls, flower girls, bull fighters and all the other peculiar characters of Old Mexico are in the foreground, when General Winfield Scott, leading the American armies, advances. The fireworks display descriptive of the Battle, the heavy cannonading in the distance, the thunder and lighting of the elements, the panic of the citizens, the bursting of shells and the bombardment of the Fort, winds up with one grand charge in the face of awful fire when the Americans scale the walls and plant Old Glory on the ramparts. Following this is a demostration and gorgeous of Twentieth Century fireworks, including all the new and wonderful creations of pyrotechnic art. Among the notable Kentuckians whose pictures will be burned in fire, most of whom will be readily recognized by visitors to Louisville, are Governor Jas. B. Mc-Creary, Col. W. B. Haldemnn, J. W.
Newman, Commissioner of Agriculture, Mayor W. O. Head, Honorable Henry Watterson, R. W. Knott, Chas.
B. Norton and R. W. Brown.

HAY FEVER IS NOW HERE

Known By Many Names You'll Know It If It Ever Gets You.

NO CERTAIN CURE KNOWN.

For 30 Years It Has Been A Plague Without A Remedy, Cause Unknown.

What is hay fever? If you are one of its victims—and it is now in season—you probably will want to know.
If you ask your doctor he will have his own theory about it, but it will be only a theory, not susceptible as yet of absolute demonstration. But he will tell you there are various names for it, such as hay asthma, rose cold, summer catarrh, pollinosis, vasomotor rhinitis and just plain hay fever, says an exchange.

The variety of the names used to define it shows that physicians have as yet arrived at no agreement as to its causes or cure. One authority says that as yet the germ of the disease has not been "run down."

For 30 years or more thousands of persons who have passed annually an unhappy period of suffering have taxed the learning of the most expert physicians, not so much for the cause of the disease as for a remedy.
Every conceivable treatment has been resorted to in the hope of hitting upon an effective one.

The observation of several physicians has led them to the belief that hay fever is not a universal disease, but is confined to persons of sensitive and irritable temperaments or tendencies. Men whose occupations lead them to a hardy normal sort of life are never, it appears, bothered by it.
Some physicians go so far as to say that hay fever most commonly attacks men of a certain class—generally professional men.

The name "pollinosis" indicates what most generally is regarded as a primo cause. The hay fever victim knows almost to the day when he may expect his annual attack, and this is usually coincident with the flowering of certain plants. These he will avoid, and especially any section that he knows to be infested

UNTAMABLE ZEBRAS DRIVEN IN HARNESS

sation in Ringling Bros. Street Parade Saturday.

with the common ragweed.
The victim will also beg you not to bring into the house such wild flowers as golden rod, whose pollen is extremely irritating. With some people the odor of roses produces a similar irritation, hence the name "rose cold."

Certain localities of high altitude are nearly immune from hay fever.
This is why Bethlehem, N. H., has been a favorite resort of the afflicted for many years for thousands. Here relief is found in the pure air peculiar to the region. On the other hand many sufferers have tried various climates both at home and a broad without obtaining even temporary relief.

Many practitioners of the regular schools are now inclined to accept the conclusions both as to the origin of the disease and the mode of treatment arrived at by Dr. George L.
Richards as set forth in a paper he read before an association of physicians. As explained by Dr. Walter B. Peet, a prominent New York specialist, it is due, first, to an impaired state of the nervous system, especially of the vasomotor portion;
second, to some sort of disturbance,
organic or functional, in the nose, accompanied by changes in the chemical composition of the secretions, with hypersensitive areas in the upper respiratory tract; third, to some definite local irritant, usually the pollen of some plant or the emanation of some animal coming in contact with the upper air tract for the eye.

"In recent years," said Dr. Peet,
"cocaine was the first of the so-called specifics. This soon, and properly fell into disuse, as its reaction was distressing. In 1902 came the Dunbar serum, made by artificially producing hay fever in horses, the serum being applied to the mucous membrane of the nose and eyes. Later it was furnished as a powder and is now known as 'pollatin' Dr. C. M.

Cobb, of Chicago, treats his patients with a cold shower and gymnastics.
He paints the inside of the nose with a tincture of iodine. I prefer to use pineoleum in the form of a soothing spray."

"Hay fever has an extensive literature of its own," said Dr. Huber, of No. 40 East Forty-first street.
"Everybody from the quack to the most erudite chemist has at some time discovered a specific. Sometimes the victim takes the cure into his own hands. At one time cold storage obtained considerable favor.
The sneezers retired to the ice chambers of breweries and meat plants, and came forth shivering and chattering messages of cheer to other sufferers. One Fuber, of Hamburg, cured himself by rubbing his ears until they were 'red and hot.'"

The Hay Fever Association held its annual convention at Bethlehem, N. N., August 21.

ORIGIN OF FAMOUS FLYER

Seller that Common Pointed Term
Sprang From a Horse Race Held In Tennessee.

The political term "dark horse" is thought to have had its origin in the following circumstances:
In the last century there lived in Tennessee a "character" named Flynn, an elderly person who dealt in horses.
Flynn generally contrived to own a speedy nag or two for racing purposes if he could arrange for "a good thing" during his peregrinations throughout the state.

The best of Flynn's flyers was a coal black stallion named Desky Pete, almost a thoroughbred and able to go in the best of company.

One day Flynn visited a town where a race meeting was in progress. He entered Pete. The people, knowing nothing of the horse's antecedents and not being over impressed by his appearance, backed the local favorite heavily against the stranger.

Just as the beasts were being ad-dled for the race, a certain Judge Mc-Minamee, who was the "oracle" of that part of the state, arrived on the course and was made one of the race judges.

As he took his place on the stand he was told of the folly of the owner of the strange entry. Running his eye over the track the judge instantly recognized Pete. "Gentlemen," said Mc-Minamee, "there's a dark horse in this race, as you'll soon find out."

He was right. Pete, "the dark horse," lay back until the three-quarter pole was reached, when he went to the front with a rush and won the race.

JUST A MERE SUGGESTION

Huby's Plaint, However, Threatened to Develop Into a First-Class Family Spat.

"Gertrude!"

"Yes, John."

"We've been married long enough now to talk plainly to each other."

"What's the matter now?"

"If I do something you don't like I want you to tell me of it, and if you do things I don't like I think I ought to tell you of them, too."

"I suppose I don't suit you at all?"

"Yes you do, but I think we ought to talk over our likes and dislikes. In that way we can get along so much better."

"John, I want you to understand right now that I was brought up every bit as well as you, and know how to behave. And as to my cooking, I can do as well as your mother ever did."

"I had hoped that you wouldn't lose your temper. But if you're going to act this way we may as well drop the matter right here."

"What is the matter, anyhow?"

"I only wanted to suggest that when you darn my socks it would be better for me if you would tie the knots on the outside, instead of the inside."

New York Police Mascot.

In addition to its official "yaller dog" mascot, Bum, the old Mulberry street police station has acquired another dog, known as Peg Post. He is also of an ochre tint, and his mysterious behavior has baffled the wisest sleuths in the station. When the men begin their tours on the stationary or "peg" posts at ten o'clock at night, the dog comes trotting from somewhere and takes up his station with whichever policeman on duty in the precinct suits his fancy for that particular night.
Frequently he changes from one post to another, and remains on watch until the stationary posts give way to regular patrol at six in the morning. Then he trots away, and is not seen until the next night. Offers of bribes from the men's lunches have been repeatedly refused by Peg Post and his agility has thus far prevented any one from learning the number of the dog license he wears on his collar
—New York Tribune.

Aid to the Unlovely.

"I try to be an efficient city directory," said the hotel clerk, "but balk at recommending a beauty doctor to women guests."

"That is one of the first things they want to know. Churches, theaters, even dressmakers can wait a few days, but the beauty doctor is an immediate necessity. Unfortunately, they do not get much satisfaction out of me. Any number of beauty specialists leave cards for distribution, but so many of them have been mixed up in lawsuits that I feel squeamish about delivering their cards. To satisfy my own conscience and the women at the same time I hand out a bunch of advertisements with the remark that I guess they are about all alike."

"Then they can pay their money and take their choice, and if they lose their hair and complexion, they can come back on me for damages."

Largest Flying Fish.

The largest flying fish on record was served up for breakfast on the British warship Ardeola a short time ago. The Ardeola was homeward bound and was off the Canary Islands when a large school of flying fish was observed. They were apparently in full flight from some deep sea enemy and traveling rapidly. As the ship met and passed them several flew on board and were seized by the crew as welcome additions to the mess. One of the fish measured 19 inches; the largest flying fish ever seen before the Ardeola's catch have never exceeded 20 inches. The big one was fried for the captain's breakfast. Flying fish are very palatable and taste like trout.

An Old Sale Bill.

An exchange says they were handed a copy of an old sale bill that was printed in Missouri sixty-two years ago. It reads as follows:

"State of Missouri, County of Pike. To whom it may concern:
The undersigned will, September 28, 1848, sell at Public outcry, for cash, on premises where Cook creek crosses on Missouri road, the following chattels, to wit: Six yoke of oxen with yoke and chain, two wagons with beds, four buck niggers, three nigger wenches, three nigger boys, five prairie plows, 25 steel traps, one barrel pickled cabbage, one hogs-head of tobacco, one lot of nigger hoses, a spinning wheel, one loom, three fox hounds, a lot of mink, coon and skunk hides, and a lot of other articles. I am going to California.

FREE.—Head cheese, apples and hard cider.

A Disappointed Crowd.

One of the most disappointed crowds ever gathered here was the one assembled at the vacant lot East of Hotel Latham Tuesday night.
The second of the open-air concerts was expected to have been given by the First Regiment Band, but the band was engaged for the evening at the baseball park. Every seat was taken but after waiting a while and no musicians appearing the people left, some going to the park and others "trekking" back home.
This does not mean, however, that one of the six concerts will be omitted.

Got Too Close.

Flint, Mich.—In the presence of hundreds of people, 14-year-old Chester Betts, son of Bert N. Betts, of Flint, was accidentally caught by the guy ropes of a balloon today and carried about 2,000 feet in the air before the rope untangled and hurled him to his death. He crashed against the roof of a barn and was still alive when spectators reached him, but he soon expired. The aeroplan made a heroic effort to draw him up to the trapeze but failed.

Dangerous Fall.

A horse, attached to a buggy, in which Mrs. Helen Green was seated, on Main street in front of the Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., backed and ran one of the hind wheels into the sewer connection. Mrs. Green, believing that the buggy would be overturned, attempted to jump from the buggy to the street, but received a hard fall, landing on her right side, one of the wheels passing over her lower limbs. Fortunately she escaped injury.

Author Changed It.

In reply to a query regarding the alleged change in the Frost bill to prevent the shipment of liquor into dry territory, State Senator Frost, of Wingo, sent the following dispatch:

"Wingo, Ky.—Senate bill 120 was amended by my striking out the words, 'or deliver to another,' it being so drastic I could not pass the bill through the Senate. As amended it catches the go between who takes your money and brings back the liquor all in dry territory."

VERMONT SAYS WILSON WINS

For First Time Since 1892 Republican Candidate Fails to Have Majority.

IS THE BAROMETER STATE.

Majorities of 25,000 to 30,000 Reduced to a Scanty Plurality--Progressives Third.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 3.—The progressives and democrats won the honors in the state election today. The republicans will have a sufficient majority in the legislature to elect Allen M. Fletcher governor and the remainder of the state ticket. It was the first time since 1892 the republicans have not had a majority in the popular vote.

The vote for the five candidates for governor from all of the six cities and 196 out of 240 town was:

Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish, republican, 22,366; H. B. Howe of St. Johnsbury, democrat, 17,043; Rev. Frazier-Metzger of Randolph, progressive, 13,330; Clement Smith, Morrisville, prohibitionist, 1,341; Fred W. Suiter, Barre, socialist, 976.

Returns up to midnight showed the next legislature will contain 110 republicans, thirty-six democrats and thirty-four progressive members of the lower branch as well as thirty republican senators.

Republican Congressman Chosen
Congressman F. R. Green of St. Albans, in the first, and Frank Plumley of Northfield in the second, both republicans, were re-elected without material opposition.

Bare Plurality For Republican

For many years political students have pointed out that any decrease in the republican majority in Vermont in September below 25,000 had been followed almost invariably by the party defeat in the presidential fight in November. These majorities, which have averaged close to 30,000 in all the state elections in Vermont in presidential years since 1892, were represented today by a bare plurality.

After 55 Years.

Mr. R. L. Waddill, of McKinney, Texas, arrived here Monday accompanied by his brother, G. M. Waddill and Miss F. G. Waddill, their sister, and Miss E. W. Waddill, daughter of R. L. Waddill.

The Messrs. Waddill were born in Hopkinsville and went with their father to Texas in 1857, this being their first visit in 55 years. They have been East for several weeks and came here via Chicago.

Mr. R. L. Waddill said he and his brother wanted to see how their home town had grown in over half a century, and though they had expected much, they were unprepared to see the little village having developed into a city.

The main object of the Waddill brothers, however, in visiting Hopkinsville was to learn something of their father's and mother's families. Mr. Waddill is a grandson of the late Judge Benjamin Shackelford, whose home was on South Walnut street, the house of Mr. B. W. Harner being on the spot where Judge Shackelford's home was located. Mr. Waddill also has relatives in Madisonville. The two brothers and their sister and Miss Waddill visited many places in the city of which they had heard their parents speak in their childhood days. The elder brother was only seven years old when he went to Texas, but he had no trouble in finding where his grandfather lived 55 years ago, and spoke of the Gants, Hoppers and Dr. Peyton who lived here at the time, and many other old families.

PARCELS POST

Packages of Less Total Dimensions Than 72 Inches May Be Handled.

In response to many inquiries from people all over the country, the United States senate committee on post offices and post roads, has sent out a summary of the provisions of the new parcels post law which becomes effective January 1, 1913. The information will prove of much value to the millions interested in the new bill, which found much popular favor in all communities.

Any article weighing not more than eleven pounds, not more than 72 inches in length and girth combined, and which is not likely to injure the mails, postal equipment or employees, is mailable. The flat rate is one cent per ounce for packages weighing not more than four ounces.

Above four ounces the rate is by the pound or fraction thereof, and varies with distance. A package weighing one pound may be mailed and delivered on a local rural route or city delivery for 5 cents; for each additional pound one cent. For fifty miles or under the rate will be 5 cents, and 3 cents for each additional pound; for 150 miles, 6 cents, and 4 cents for each additional pound; for 300 miles, 7 cents and 5 cents for each additional pound; 600 miles, 8 cents and 6 cents for each additional pound; 1,000 miles, 9 cents and 7 cents for each additional pound; 1,800 miles, 11 cents and 10 cents for each additional pound; for 2,000 miles or more, 12 cents and 12 cents for each additional pound.

Changes may be perfected by the postmaster general, with the consent of the interstate commerce commission.

The masses have been demanding the parcels post law for the past twenty years, and the passage of the bill by the Democratic house has met with popular approval.—Exchange.

SUICIDE AT TRENTON

Henry Chiles Shoots Himself In The Head.

Trenton, Ky., Aug. 30.—"Came to his death by his own hands as the result of a pistol wound discharged in his right temple," reads the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of Henry Chiles, found dead in his bed in this city today. The deceased was a son of Dr. John G. Chiles and a salesman of J. Metz, the well known drygoods merchant.

Mr. Chiles slept in the rear of the store, where his body was found this morning about 7 o'clock, when relatives began the search for him. When found he was lying upon his bed, in his night robe, with a bullet hole through his head and a double-action Colt's pistol emptied of one barrel, laying by his face.

The deceased was married, about 23 years old, and had been in bad health for some months. Last night after supper he borrowed this same pistol from a friend, saying he wished to "kill some rats," evidently having carefully planned the terrible deed.

The unfortunate youth leaves a father, two brothers and three sisters.

Two Fatalities.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 4.—One boy is dead and another dying as the result of injuries received in a baseball game here. John Caldwell, 17, was spiked in sliding to a base and developed a case of blood-poisoning from which he died last night. Frank Wende, aged 18, while awaiting his turn at bat, stood too close to the plate and was hit by a pitched ball which fractured his skull. He cannot recover.

SAVING TREES BY GRAFTING

Injured Parts Are Bridged by Means of Scions of Last Year's Growth—Plan Outlined.

Orchard trees which have been girdled may often be saved by what is called bridge grafting. This consists in bridging the injured parts by means of scions of the last season's growth, thus connecting the part below the wound with that above. First trim the bark around the injured parts. Then sharpen the ends of the scions to a wedge shape and fit tightly into the layer of new wood just beneath the bark, called the cambium layer. Cover the union at the end of the scions with grafting wax, completely to exclude the air. Also wrap the wound with cloth to protect it from drying out, likewise cover the wax with old muslin to keep it from being melted by the sun. If the lower edge of the wound is near enough to the ground to make it practicable to do so, it is better to cover it three or four inches deep with fresh earth.

Where the trees are very young and the girdling is severe, cutting the trunk off below the wound is probably the best treatment. The exposed part of the stub should at once be coated with grafting wax. Select the best sprout that starts and support it by tying it to a firm stake until it is stocky enough to withstand strong winds without danger of being broken off. When the sprout is well started dress the stump so that it may heal over readily. Cut the stub slanting at the base of the sprout so that it will shed water. Then cover the wound with paint made of pure white lead and raw linseed oil, to protect it from water and from disease germs. Do not spread the paint beyond the cut surface. This method should produce a tree of bearing age sooner than one could be grown from a replanted nursery tree.

To make grafting wax, melt together four parts, by weight, of resin, two parts of beeswax, and one part of beef tallow or raw linseed oil. Apply while moderately hot with a brush or dauber. A supply of the wax may be kept on hand by taking the mixture when hot and pouring it into water. When it is sufficiently cool, work with the hands until the mass assumes a buff color. Make into balls and wrap with waxed paper to prevent the balls from sticking together.

HOW TO PLANT STRAWBERRY

Best to Have Plants in Bucket Containing Water to Keep Roots in a Moist Condition.

One of the best methods of planting strawberries is to thrust a spade straight into the ground at the proper place to a depth of five or six inches, writes R. S. Sando in Outing, and then lean it over to one side, forcing the soil out of the way and leaving a wedge shaped hole, one wall of which is straight up and down. The roots of the plant should be spread out in a fan shape against this wall and the spade, then set in the ground about six inches farther forward, and by a backward movement of the handle firmly press the dirt against the roots of the plant. To lend additional firmness to the soil, step with one foot on either side of the plant.

The last hole made by the spade should have some soil raked into it before leaving. When setting the plants it is best to have them in a bucket containing a little water in order that the roots may be kept moist until they are planted; but it is not necessary or advisable to water plants immediately after setting them.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES

Keep the weeds out of the orchard. Fire blight attacks the pear, quince and apple.

Thinning fruit usually pays, grading fruit always does.

Put on an old mitten and get after the tent caterpillars.

Raspberries should be picked when they have turned red.

There is not a home that can afford to be without blackberries.

In growing dewberries on a large scale one of the serious problems is that of securing pickers.

As a crop for the young orchard beans come as near being the ideal as anything that can be grown.

To watch the trees and vines grow that one has planted, to provide bowers as well as fruit, is a pleasing ambition.

Get the blackberries out of the sun as soon as they are picked, or they are likely to turn red in spots and be less salable.

Leave plenty of mulch between the strawberry rows when uncovering. It helps to retain moisture, and keeps berries cleaner.

Dig out and burn blackberry or blackcap plants that are infested with red rust. There's no other way to fight this disease.

ONE PREFERENCE FOR HOME

Oliver Wendell Holmes Unable to Give Any Real Pleasure in the Vaunted "Tavern."

Don't talk to me about taverns! There is just one genuine, clean, decent, palatable thing occasionally to be had in them—namely, a boiled egg. The soups taste pretty good sometimes, but their sources are involved in a darker mystery than that of the Nile. Omelettes taste as if they had been carried in the waiter's hat, or fried in an old boot. I ordered scrambled eggs one day. It must be that they had been scrambled for by somebody, but who—who in the possession of a sound reason could have scrambled for what I had set before me under that name? Butter! I am wondering why the taverns always keep it until it is old. Fool that I am! As if the taverns did not know that if it was good it would be eaten, which is not what they want. Then the waiters, with their napkins—what don't they do with those napkins! Mention any one thing of which you think you can say with truth, "That they do not do."

Every six months a tavern should burn to the ground, with all its traps, its "properties," its beds and pots and kettles and start afresh from its ashes like John Phoenix-Squibb.

No; give me home, or a home like mine, where all is clean and sweet, where coffee has pre-existed in the berry and tea has still faint recollections of the pigstails that dangled about the plant from which it was picked, where butter has not the prevailing character which Pope assigned to Denham, where soup could look you in the face if it had "eyes" (which it has not), and where the comely Anne or the gracious Margaret takes the place of these napkin bearing animals.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

DISSOLVE BONE IN THROAT

Use of Lemon Juice at Critical Time is a Thing Worth Keeping in Mind.

Sitting at a planked shad dinner in Yonkers, a laughing guest drew a bone into his throat and he began to struggle. Some one suggested that the sufferer swallow a fragment of dry bread.

"Oh, no," exclaimed an Ossining man. "Don't give him bread. It might catch the bone and it might not. Give him something that is sure to give relief." Beckoning to a waiter, he said: "Bring me a lemon, cut in two." And it was brought without delay. Taking one section, he offered it to the choking guest and told him to suck the juice and to swallow it slowly. Directions were faithfully followed, and in about a quarter of a minute the afflicted one placed the half lemon on his plate, looked into the anxious faces around the table and smiled.

"Well, Joe," said one, "how about it?"

"It's gone," was the reply, "the bone has slipped down."

"Not exactly that," said the Ossining man. "The bone slipped down, all right, but it was melted first by the citric acid. I never knew it to fail to dissolve a fishbone. You can test the power of lemon juice by dropping some on the fishbones you may have lying on your plate."

Several diners tried the experiment. In each case the acid reduced the bone to liquid gelatine.

Fawn and St. Bernard as Companions.

At the little village of Bauma, in Switzerland, a farmer recently found a young fawn in one of his fields.

Fearing that if left alone without its mother some mischief would befall it, he took it home and did everything possible for it. Now, he happened to have a large St. Bernard dog, and this dog and the fawn took to each other.

The fawn slept in the dog's kennel, and when it grew a little older and went out on its walks abroad, the dog accompanied it, and defended it against the attacks of other dogs.

Sometimes the St. Bernard and the fawn would be absent in the woods and fields for a whole day, but they always returned at night, the doors and gate being left open for them. The fawn is now much taller than the St. Bernard, and yet the dog still goes out with it.

Praise Be, the Brother Was Lying.

Police courts are not always marked by an atmosphere of piety, but the exception to the rule occurred in a court where a very religious man, against whom one of the neighbors had made a complaint, was being tried for some trivial offense. The complaining witness was called to the stand to relate his side of the story, and the defendant listened closely for several minutes. Then his personal feelings overrode court etiquette and he rushed up to the judge, fervently exclaiming: "Your honor, the brother is lying Praise the Lord!"

Limit of the Borrowing Habit.

Little Margie was a frequent visitor at the Jones home, going there on errands of borrowing many times each day. On this occasion she asked the loan of a cooking utensil. But Mrs. Jones had become very much out of patience at the continual borrowing and sent word by Margie that she "had other fish to fry."

Imagine her surprise when in a few moments her neighbor's little Margie again appeared in her doorway, repeating: "Mozzer thald pleathe to L. C. 'Ahome of the fish, pleathe."

HOW TO MOVE LARGE TREES

Process Now Made Possible Through Contrivance Attached to Ordinary Wagon.

The moving of large trees is now made possible through a single contrivance which may be attached to the running gear of an ordinary wagon. The tree can be raised to any desired angle and retained there, by means of the endless chains on the cog-wheels in the upper part of the frame-work and their connections with the block and tackle below. The old-fashioned guy ropes, usually fastened to the head of the tree, are discarded, as they have frequently proved to be injurious by disconnecting or loosening the roots from the ball of earth.

In order to get the wagon directly over the ball of the tree, and also over the hole where the tree is to be replanted, the rear axle of the wagon is removed, and the back of the truss or elevated framework upon which the tree is suspended keeps this part of the wagon together at any width required. To prevent damage to grass areas, wide tires are used. In the case illustrated, 14-inch tires were used on the rear wheels.

CULTIVATION OF PEACH TREE

Thorough Culture Kills Weeds and Forms Mulch Conserving Much of the Soil Moisture.

It is very essential to take the very best possible care of the young trees. They should be kept thrifty and healthy, and all the necessary care given them to conserve the moisture and plant food in the soil.

Early in the spring, as soon as the soil will permit, it should be stirred six to eight inches deep; thus if the trees have been planted as deeply as they should, plowing this depth will cause them to produce a deep root system which will not be injured as quickly by freezing or drought. After this plowing the fertilizer should be applied and worked with a disk harrow or cultivator.

Frequent cultivations should be given with the cultivator or disk harrow, running deep enough to form a good soil mulch and prevent subsequent baking or crusting of the surface and prevent loss of soil moisture by evaporation. Thorough culture kills all the weeds, which are a constant drain on the soil moisture and plant food and also assists in decomposing and liberating any plant food which may have been turned under.

USEFUL AS HEDGE TRIMMER

Implement Easily Put Together by Using Several Blades Attached to a Wooden Handle.

Hedge cutting or trimming with a sickle or with hand snips is very slow and tedious work. As I had considerable hedge to take care of, says a writer in Popular Mechanics, I made a trimmer with several sets of blades similar to a regular trimmer. The blades were attached to a wood handle and operated with a wood lever as shown in the sketch. The operation is the same as when using the regular hedge trimmer.

A Hedge Trimmer.

Learn to Graft.

Why not urge the boys to experiment in grafting different kinds of fruit trees? Dig up some small fruit trees, such as plum, cherry, apple or peach. Some of which can be raised by planting the seed. The plum and cherry trees can be found almost any time where the sprouts come from the old tree. Then get some limbs from a tree of the same kind and of a choice variety and bury them all in a box of dry dirt in the cellar. At any time during the winter or spring graft them and put them back in the dirt till time to plant out.

Care of Fruit Trees.

Look well to the little fruit trees set out this spring. See that they do not suffer from lack of water. When trees need water pull the soil away from around the roots, give each tree a painful and, after it soaks in, replace the earth.

Could Not Write

Versailles Ky.—Mrs. Elisha Green, of this place, says: "I could not write all the different pains I had when I first tried Cardui. I could scarcely walk. Now I am able to run the sewing machine and do my work; and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better." Cardui is a specific, pain relieving, tonic remedy, for women. In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains, and female misery, for which over a million suffering women have successfully used it. Try Cardui for your troubles. It will help you. At the nearest drug store.

FARM AND BEES

OBSERVATORY HIVE IS NEW

All the Doings of Bees and Queen Can Be Watched—Found Quite Handy and Is Inexpensive.

My observatory hive consists of two circles of inch wood made exactly the same size, and with a three-inch hole cut out of the center of each, writes Walter Chitty in the Gleanings in Bee Culture. At the bottom of one of the circles a bee entrance is made which reaches as far as the center hole. The bees can run along to the center, and then ascend. Four pieces of wood, about three inches wide, are firmly fastened with screws, as shown, and three grooves are cut in each of these pieces, and corresponding grooves in the two large circles. The center grooves are for foundation, and the other grooves for glass. The foundation could be wired if desired; but if good thick foundation is used I find wiring is not necessary.

The hole at the top may be used for feeding or supering. Special supers could easily be made, another hive of the same sort put on top, or a bell-glass, as fancy dictates. I find this a very useful and handy hive for observation purposes, and the making and material are not at all expensive.

All the doings of the bees and queen can be seen; and to keep them in the dark I merely put corrugated paper around it, and keep the paper in its place with a piece of elastic. In winter time, three or four folds of paper could be used to keep the bees warm. These hives would do well for indoor observation, or in a beehouse.

MANY FAKES WITH BEES

Nonswarming Hives Are Delusion Pure and Simple—"Shook Swarm" Plan Is Described.

Most of the so-called nonswarming hives are fakes pure and simple. The very last word on the subject is that of the "shook swarm" plan, that enables the beekeeper to swarm each hive artificially at his convenience and not that of the bees. This is the best method in vogue and is really very simple. Dr. D. Everett Lyon explains the process in the Farm and Home: When a hive gives evidence that it is thinking about swarming, as seen in the bees clustering on the outside of the hive and the presence of queen cells started in the brood nest, it is time to shake them.

Take an empty hive with lid and bottom board in place and with the frames of the hive containing strips of foundation wax in place as full combs. Place the empty hive alongside the one about to swarm and then, lifting the brood frames from the old hive, shake off from each frame almost all the bees until all the frames have been so shaken in front of the new hive, being sure to shake the queen along with the bees.

Then set the old hive with its brood nest off some distance and put the new hive with the bees in its place. Be sure to take all the storage chambers from the old hive and place them on the new hive into which the bees have been shaken. The working force in the new hive and that's where we want the storage chambers, which will be quickly filled, as the bees, having only started strips of wax in the brood combs, must, of necessity, store the honey coming in the next few days in the upper stories until such time as they will get the starters drawn out into full combs.

COVERING ALFALFA IN CORN

Home-Made Device Shown in Illustration Found Quite Convenient in Southeastern Ohio.

Sometimes farmers obtain good results from sowing alfalfa between the rows of standing corn. Where this is done it is often a puzzle to get the seed properly covered. The accompanying illustration is a home-made plank drag, 34 inches wide and Plank Drag.

SAY, FOLKS

Don't you know there is a difference in Coal, just as great as that in sugar, flour, coffee, butter or water? Stop, think. Well there is, and next Winter somebody is going to have a hard time making that grate full of rocks, slate and clay burn.

Nobody asks if OUR COAL is GOOD; they know WE handle the best.

THE two are closely associated; the doctor puts all his skill into diagnosing your case and prescribing the remedy—to the drug store is left the carrying out of his instructions. You take great care in choosing a doctor in whom you have confidence—you owe it to yourself to take equal care in selecting a drug store.

All the physician's care is useless, if the drugs he prescribes are carelessly compounded. Bring your prescription here—ask your doctor why.

We call for and deliver your prescriptions. We carry all kinds of medical supplies, such as Water Bottles, Thermos Bottles, Invalid Rings and everything for the sick room.

UNCOVER OLD BURIAL GROUND

Antiquarians Interested In Discoveries on Site of Ancient Scottish Parish Church.

While excavating ground for one of the wooden buildings in the show park of the Highland and Agricultural society at Kinross, Cupar, Scotland, recently, the workmen found their operations impeded by a number of heavy stones. On the soil being cleared at both ends, it was seen that the stones formed three cists, each of which contained human bones. The workmen did not lay the whole of the cists bare, but the portions uncovered, eighteen inches square, sufficiently show what they are. A few steps away more bones were found at every spadeful of soil. These were not in stone cists, but simply lying in the soil not more than two feet from the surface. The three cists were lying east to west but the remains a yard or two away were lying close to each other, head to head. Some of the skulls were remarkably well preserved, particularly the teeth. The parish church of Cupar occupied that site several centuries ago. About a sackful of bones were thus turned up, and have all been returned to the earth again. The position of the three stone cists just discovered so close together suggests that they lay near the altar of the parish church of their occupant's day. It was behind the site of the high altar in St. Andrew's Cathedral that the three stone coffins now seen there were discovered at the great clearance of debris in 1826.
